Welcome to Diwali Fun!

A note for grown-ups

Diwali is a time for light, colour, family — and curious minds. This pack turns familiar Diwali moments into playful chances to count, notice, compare, reason, create and solve. Children do not need to finish every page: choose what suits your child, let them think aloud, and celebrate the attempt as much as the answer.

Star guide

- ★ Ready to go — most children aged 5 and above can try it on their own
- ★★ A little challenge — try it together with a grown-up

What is inside

A	Counting and numbers	pages 2–8
B	Matching and looking closely	pages 9–14
C	Patterns, shapes and pencil control	pages 15–21
D	Diwali sums and sorting	pages 22–25
E	Life skills: sequence, safety, memory, kindness, rangoli	pages 26–32
F	Draw step by step	pages 33–46
G	Colouring and a green, cracker-free Diwali	pages 47–59
H	Diwali card, answers and certificate	page 60 onwards

Diwali safety

Diyas, lamps and flames are for grown-ups. Children should ask an adult before lighting anything, keep a safe distance, and never leave a burning diya alone. We encourage a cracker-free Diwali — kinder to animals, elders and our air.

- Print the pages you need — print them again as often as you like for your own family.
- Do one or two pages a day, and ask your child to explain how they got each answer.
- Answers are at the back. Check together and award the Diwali Star certificate!
- The swastik in this book is the traditional Hindu symbol of good fortune, drawn at Diwali on doorsteps and in rangoli.

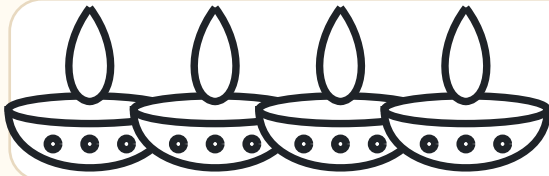

Count the diyas in each row. Write the number.
